80 years ago, Seediq people living in the mountains of Taiwan organized an uprising against the Japanese colonial rulers: the rebellion known as the "Wushe Incident". In this documentary, the descendants of the Wushe survivors talk about that history from their point of view, and lead us to the places where the tragedies took place.

Socializing/networking and refreshments at 1PM, film begins at 2PM.

This movie is presented by the Asian-American Cultural Circle of Unity and the Taipei Cultural Center.

Preference given to UFSD #22 residents.